Family History

In 1930 Robert Beale Senior and his son Arthur Robert Beale, builders of that day, built the premises you now sit in.

In 1937 Arthur Robert Beale with his wife Lillian May opened Beales Park Fish Restaurant. Through the Second World War, soldiers of many nationalities came to the shop, some eating chips from their helmets, while their rifles were stored in the toilets.

Then enlisting the help of their elder children Mary, John & June, Park Fish Restaurant became an established part of Porthcawl. In the mid 1970s youngest son, and war baby, Arthur William and his wife Marilyn took the helm, until in 2005 their children Nicholas, Gareth & Helen modernised & extended the restaurant which they successfully run to this day.

Truly a family business for over 80 years!
